

Visas

Visas to China

Categories of visas to China

Japan Visas

Taiwan Visas

Type of visa	Length of stay	Cost	List of documents
Business visa M Driver's license C	Single-time	12,000 RUB	Invitation Company License Work Certificate
	Double-time	16,000 RUB
	Annual multiple	22,000 RUB
	Two-year	22,000 RUB
Tourism L	One-time / Two-time payment	12,000 RUB
		16,000 RUB
		16,000 RUB
Family visa Q1/Q2/S1/S2 Work Z Study X1/X2	Single-time	10,000 rubles	Depending on the type of visa
	Double-time
	Annual multiple

- Production time: 10-12 business days in regular mode, 5-7 business days in urgent mode, express mode upon agreement
- Payment upon visa readiness, the Consular fee is included in the price
- The application is impersonal and does not require your presence at the Consulate
- We have been working without intermediaries since 2009
 - You can pay in any convenient way when you are ready
 - We issue visas regardless of the applicant's place of residence in the Russian Federation
 - The fastest way to deliver documents is by S7's "Flying Envelope" service.
 - To work in China, you need to apply for a Z visa.
 - After submitting the documents to the Consulate, it is not possible to cancel the visa application or return the passport before the date of issue

A trip to China requires a visa. The Chinese Consulate is open 4 times a week from 9:30 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. Russian citizens can apply for a visa to China on their own. You can find the required list of documents and the procedure for submitting them on the official website of the Chinese Consulate in Yekaterinburg. However, anyone who has ever had to apply for a visa knows how time-consuming and challenging it can be.

Our company is accredited at the Consulate of the People's Republic of China in Yekaterinburg and provides such a service as visa processing to China in Yekaterinburg without the applicant's personal presence. How to get a visa? The list of required documents: a foreign passport, a color photo in electronic format and a questionnaire, which you can fill out at our office. If you do not have the opportunity to come to the office in person, you can send the documents by courier delivery CDEK or "flying envelope" airlines S7 or Ural Airlines.

- Since 2010, we have been professionally processing visas to China for all categories, both tourist and business, and we keep up with all changes and requirements in the Chinese visa legislation. Call us, ask us, and we will be happy to answer all your questions.